MORGAN'S

Commercial College,

THE PIONEER COLLEGE OF UTAH,

Salt Lake City. March, 1869.

AT the close of the present Winter Term, it is thought proper and expedient to give a synopsis of the work accomplished, for the information of all who are interested in the great cause of education.

The attendance has been much larger than during any previous term, and the interest manifested has been steadily increasing and growing day by day through the Winter, until the present date. No Schedule for a previous quarter can show more permanent, solid improvement, and improvement that will be as lasting. Students have been much more punctual, and as a rule have applied themselves much more assiduously than ever before, and as a consequence have accomplished much more.

The talent in the College has been of a different character, to a certain extent, to any heretofore met with; partaking more of the earnest, hardworking nature, rather than brilliant; and the progress, while not so rapid, has been much more permanent, especially in Mathematics and Penmanship

A great many have accomplished their object, and are now fitted, by practical College experience, for the Counting room and Ledger, ready for business in all its varied forms, and have secured a knowledge, in a few short months, that would have required a life-time of active business, to have obtained, and it is believed that students appreciate this fact, and will benefit by their College experience by taking stand alongside of those who have been learning for the past ten years how to do business.

Book-keeping has been made a specialty and there are not less than one hundred students who could manage the books of nine-tenths of our business men, while a few, who by nature, are adapted and fitted for the office, could compete successfully with tried accountants of years standing, and will eventually be recognized as the true business men of the country, making names, securing a competence for themselves by the work of their own hands and heads, honestly applied. Especially are there many fitted for the impromptu work required by railway contractors, work of this character, not requiring that neatness and finish that a merchant or banker would expect. The great difficulty with the entire class of students who attend the College has been deficiency in Mathematics and Penmanship; two all-important necessities for a practical accountant, and,

It is the intention in the future, to gradually merge the school into a "bona fide" Mercantile Institution, believing that the wants of the country will sustain it. Heretofore it has been found almost impossible to do so on account of the lack of proper training in previous schools, in Mathematics and Penmanship, etc.

Persons who attend hereafter must fit themselves by mastering the common rudiments of an English education; to wit: obtain a knowledge of Mathematics as far as through fractions, write a medium hand, and have some knowledge of English Grammar. These points are positively essential to the student in a commercial course, and must be obtained at some period before finishing.*

CHANGE OF BASE TO THE MUSIC HALL.

OWING to the rush of Students to the College it has been found necessary to secure more room and better accomodations than have heretofore been provided, so that the ENTIRE CLASS can be under IMMEDIATE SUPERVISION OF THE PRINCIPAL thus obviating the necessity, experienced on the part of many, to the care of an Assistant the work which rightly belonged to the Principal. This disgraceful state of affairs has caused great trouble, and for some a confusion of mind, little dreamed of by many.

One hundred and prpils may, therefore, now be placed under the care of the Principal in the Assembly Room, and with the facilities which will be thereby afforded that Teacher in order to keep a complete control of the School as the rooms have been fitted up for the College.

Competent corps of Teachers will be employed, and the advantages of the new departure, that others work heretofore has been well done it will now be done better, and more energy has been thrown into what has been will now be given to which has been but indifferently performed, for the energy of the entire faculty should be brought to bear to properly equip them. Discipline is the watchword and the cornerstone to build a foundation for the College.

After the lengthy vacation which the students have been forced to, caused indirectly by the illness of the Principal the work is taken up with renewed interest and during the time of vacation arrangements have been perfected for the more complete control of the School, and an entire re-organization of the management, coupled with the experience of the past, satisfy that the College will excel its previous success---unparalleled as that has been in the Territory. The aim in the future shall be to enforce rules strictly, to educate rapidly, and to train the mind aright in those principles of an education that it is positively necessary we should possess. Remember, NO Diplomas are given for the Commercial Course alone (unless requested), but in ALL THE BRANCHES TAUGHT.
